Increased

Minor river and surface water flooding impacts are possible but not expected on Monday across parts of England and Wales. The overall flood risk for the next five days remains VERY LOW.

Assessment of flood risk

Surface water

Minor surface water flooding impacts are possible but not expected through parts of England and Wales on Monday, due to a risk of widespread and locally heavy rain.

The surface water flood risk remains VERY LOW for the next five days.

Rivers

Minor river flooding impacts are possible but not expected through parts of England and Wales on Monday, due to a risk of widespread and locally heavy rain.

The river flood risk remains VERY LOW for the next five days.

Coastal/Tidal

The coastal flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Positive surge in the North Sea may elevate the water level at time of high tide for some locations along the East Coast of England during the weekend. Despite this, only minimal impacts are expected.

Groundwater

The groundwater flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.
