Assessment of flood risk

Surface water

The surface water flood risk is LOW today (Saturday) until Monday.

Isolated significant surface water flooding impacts are possible but not expected across parts of the south of England and the south of Wales today (Saturday). On Sunday, isolated significant surface water flooding impacts are possible across parts of England and Wales and possible but not expected on Monday.

Minor surface water flooding impacts are possible but not expected across other parts of England and Wales today. Minor surface water flooding impacts are also possible on Tuesday.

This is due to heavy showers and thunderstorms. Sudden onset flooding impacts could occur by day or night. Urban areas are most prone though many areas will see little rainfall.

Rivers

The river flood risk is LOW today (Saturday) until Monday.

Isolated significant river flooding impacts are possible but not expected from today until Monday. Minor river flooding impacts are possible but not expected on Tuesday. This is due to heavy showers and thunderstorms.

River impacts are likely to be restricted to small, fast-responding catchments and urban rivers. Sudden onset flooding impacts could occur by day or night.

Coastal/Tidal

The coastal/tidal flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Groundwater

The groundwater flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.
