Assessment of flood risk

Coastal/Tidal

---

The coastal/tidal flood risk is LOW.

Minor coastal/tidal flooding impacts are probable for parts of the coast of Wales and the north-west of England later on Saturday. This continues on Sunday and extends along parts of the south-west and south coasts of England.

On Monday minor coastal flooding impacts are probable along the Yorkshire coast and possible for other parts of the north-east coast of England.

Minor coastal/tidal flooding impacts are possible elsewhere until Tuesday.

This is due to large waves and spring tides through this period.

Rivers

The river flood risk is LOW on Sunday.

Localised minor river flooding impacts are probable across parts of the south-east of England on Sunday and possible but not expected more widely in the south-east.

Minor impacts are also possible but not expected on Saturday across parts of the south-west of England and south Wales.

This is due to heavy rain at times.

Surface water

---

The surface water flood risk is LOW on Sunday.

Localised minor surface water flooding impacts are probable across parts of the south-east of England on Sunday and possible but not expected more widely in the south-east.

Minor impacts are also possible but not expected on Saturday across parts of the south-west of England and south Wales.

This is due heavy rain at times with potential for leaf-fall and blocked drains.

Groundwater

---

The groundwater flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.
