Minor surface water flooding impacts are possible in parts of the east of England today (Thursday). Minor surface water and river flooding impacts are possible but not expected elsewhere over the next five days. The overall flood risk is VERY LOW.

Specific Area Of Concern Map 1: Thursday 8 July 2021.

Assessment of flood risk

Surface water

The surface water flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Minor surface water flooding impacts are possible in parts of the east of England today (Thursday).

Minor surface water impacts are possible but not expected in places across parts of the south and east of England during tomorrow, and more widely across England and Wales over the weekend and during Monday.

This is due to periods of heavy, slow-moving thundery showers and rain.

Rivers

The river flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Minor river flooding impacts are possible in parts of the east of England today (Thursday). Minor river flooding impacts are possible but not expected in places across parts of the south and east of England during tomorrow, and more widely across England and Wales over the weekend and during Monday. Small, fast-responding and urban rivers are most at risk.

This is due to periods of heavy, slow-moving thundery showers and rain.

Coastal/Tidal

The coastal/tidal flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Groundwater

The groundwater flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.
