Increased

Minor coastal flooding impacts are possible for parts of the north-west, east and south-east of England on Saturday and Sunday. The overall flood risk is VERY LOW.

Specific Areas of Concern Map 1: Saturday 6 and Sunday 7 November 2021

Assessment of flood risk

Coastal/Tidal

The coastal/tidal flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

On Saturday and Sunday minor coastal flooding impacts are possible where large waves and positive surge coincide with high tides - see Specific Areas of Concern Map. Localised coastal flooding impacts are also possible but not expected for parts of the east coast of England from Thursday, due to large spring tides coinciding with spells of unsettled weather.

Rivers

The river flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Minor river flooding impacts are possible but not expected in parts of the north of England on Saturday, due to the possibility of heavy and persistent rain falling over already sensitive river catchments.

Surface water

The surface water flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Minor surface water flooding impacts are possible but not expected in parts of the north of England on Saturday, due to the possibility of heavy and persistent rain.

Groundwater

The groundwater flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.
