Likelihood LOW

Source Surface

Likely duration 1 Day

Heavy/persistent rain on Sunday am could give local surface water flooding impacts.

Assessment of flood risk

Surface water

The surface water flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Minor surface water flooding impacts are possible today (Sunday) for parts of England and Wales, and are possible but not expected more widely due to heavy and persistent rain. See Specific Areas of Concern Map for more details.

Minor surface water flooding impacts are possible but not expected tomorrow for parts of England and Wales due to a risk of isolated heavy showers.

Minor surface water flooding impacts are possible but not expected from late Wednesday and on Thursday for parts of England and Wales due to a risk of rain and showers.

Impacts could include localised flooding from urban and fast responding smaller watercourses/catchments, drains, channels and flooding from overland flow.

Rivers

The river flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Minor river flooding impacts are possible but not expected from late Wednesday and on Thursday for parts of England and Wales due to a risk of rain and showers.

Coastal/Tidal

The coastal/tidal flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.

Minimal coastal flooding impacts are possible in England and Wales on Thursday due to high tides and unsettled coastal conditions including large waves and surge. Impacts may include isolated spray on low-lying roads and coastal promenades.

Groundwater

The groundwater flood risk is VERY LOW for the next five days.
